

Workshop Instructor

Stewards of the Arts, INC (SOTA) is a faith-based nonprofit organization whose mission is to equip the youth to become faithful stewards of their God-given talents so that they may use them to honor God and serve others well. We do this by offering classes in various performing and visual arts areas. We truly believe that there is a nation of students sitting on their talents, due to fear, comparison, and doubt. It's time to end that, one class at a time!

SOTA is looking to grow our roster of lit, authentic, creative, and talented Workshop Instructors to teach classes at our #SOTASATURDAY workshops! Workshop Instructors will be responsible for teaching students in their particular art form, making sure that every student is engaged, inspired, and motivated to use their gifts in the way that God intended!

Approximate Time Required: 1-2 events bi-monthly

FYI: Although this is a volunteer position, we take great care of our team! We are also more than happy to provide sign off for community service hours!

Areas We Seek:

- Music (Vocal/Songwriting or Production)
- Theatre
- Art (Painting, Drawing, or Specialty)
- Dance (Modern/Contemporary or Hip Hop)

Responsibilities:

- Attending meetings to discuss upcoming workshops.
- Incorporating ministry devotional material/theme in class layout.
- Engage, encourage, and motivate students to push themselves.
- Provide a fun and creative environment.
- Ability to communicate with a diverse group of students.

Requirements:

- Minimum of a Bachelor's degree or qualification from an accredited college (or in process of obtaining)
- Previous teaching experience required.
- Excellent communication skills.
- Authentic, energetic, driven, creative, and dependable.
- Demonstrate patience and leadership skills.
- Ability to work within a team
- Able to pass a background check

We strongly advise you to apply if you have a servant's heart, love to teach, and enjoy serving the youth! If interested, select the "Workshop Instructor" option when you complete our SOTA Volunteer Application at www.stewardsofthearts.org/serve!
